Is there a housing shortage in Haninge?

Yes. According to the municipality itself, there is a housing shortage. Haninge is growing quickly and demand for more housing is increasing. According to Region Stockholm, Haninge must complete construction of 700 homes per year until 2030 in order to manage the housing shortage. The municipality's target is 750 new homes per year, which is a step in the right direction. At the same time, the governing politicians have opened the door to the sale of Haninge Bostäder's apartments, which are the municipality's own rental apartments. Continued construction and reasonable rental rates are required for everyone to afford a home.

On 13 September, you can take part in deciding which political parties will shape housing policy and make decisions about our homes. Your vote makes a difference.
