

Together we can stop

market rents

The Swedish Government, together with the Centre Party and the Liberals, has decided that market rents can be introduced for all new rental flats. We want to stop this from happening and we need your help!

We believe that in the long term this will mean that market rents will be used for all flats, because it will eliminate joint negotiation. When everyone negotiates on their own, the risk increases that the person who can pay the most will get to rent the flat. For the vast majority of people, market rents would mean a much higher rent. In some areas, rents could skyrocket by up to 50%.

That is why we need to show politicians that there are many of us who think that market rent is a bad idea.
